LEXINGTON MARKET

Opened Yesterday—Immense Crowd in Attendance

Lexington Herald.

Quality and condition considered, along with the fact that on account of the dry season no great quantity could be counted on, the tobacco market for the season 1912-13 opened in Lexington yesterday with a small army of buyers, all eager to get a line on general conditions, and a crowd of growers and speculators that was most flattering to the warehouse interest.

Approximately 118,000 pounds of tobacco was sold at from $4 to $33, the bulk of the offerings averaging well. Former Deputy Sheriff J. Cloud Bosworth received the highest price of the day, a basket of high grade cigarette tobacco bringing $33 a hundred. Mr. Bosworth's tobacco averaged $23.25 a hundred and was sold through the Shelburne warehouse. Other crops averaged $12.50, $14, $16 and $18 at the various warehouses.

Nearly every leading tobacco man in Maysville was at the opening sales in Lexington yesterday. Thirty-one going out from this city.

WEDDED AT HARRIMAN

Dr. Thomas Nelson Smith of Maysville Married to Miss Mabel Scott

A wedding that has caused a ripple of surprise and excitement here was the announcement yesterday afternoon that Dr. Thomas Nelson Smith, only son of Dr. and Mrs. T. H. N. Smith of this city, and Miss Mabel Scott were married at Harriman, Tennessee, on Saturday evening last, at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Judge and Mrs. J. W. Scott.

So secretive was the happy groom concerning his marriage that his immediate family were ignorant of any facts concerning it, only that Nelson had gone on a visit to Harriman.

The bride, who is a lovely blonde, is well and favorably known to Maysville people and only recently was the guest here of Miss Nannie Thompson and Miss Edna Webster Gilmore, her close friends. The young doctor was a devoted suitor and was very much in her company while here.

The bride's father, Judge Scott, is a prominent Tennessee lawyer and is now attorney for the Queen & Crescent Railway Company at Harriman.

The nuptials were very quiet, only a few intimates in Harriman besides the family being in attendance.

The Presbyterian ring ceremony was invoked by the resident officiating minister.

Dr. Nelson Smith, the groom, is one of Maysville's most worthy and rising young gentlemen and has been associated with his father here in business for a number of years.

Dr. Smith and his bride will reside in Maysville with his parents and the happy couple's scores of friends will unite in giving them a royal old Kentucky welcome.

FAIR TODAY AND THURSDAY.

BUD DARNALL

Taken Back to Fleming County to Face a Charge of Forgery

Bud Darnall, whose pardon from the Kentucky Penitentiary is only of recent date, is again in the toils of the law, having been delivered over to Deputy Sheriff Daugherty and returned to Fleming county to face a charge of forgery, and it is alleged the evidence is dead against him and it will not be long before he is again occupying his old cell in the State Prison.

It was a pitiful sight to witness the distress of his wife, little children and aged mother, as they bid him good bye at the L. & N. Depot last afternoon as he departed in charge of the Fleming County Sheriff. His family and mother reside in the West End.

"Lord, bore it into the heads of the Democratic party that now is the time to pray for wisdom, not to make fools of themselves," prays the Houston Post. Which is another way of trying to place the blame on Providence.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

IF ALL WOULD SPEND ALL.

"Spend all you have. It is foolish to scrimp and save," says Prof. Patton, of the University of Pennsylvania. "Men and women should spend their earnings."

Not a bad idea if everybody played fair. If each and every one of us spent his money as fast as he earned it we could all bathe in an endless flowing stream of rippling currency—like sunshine and babbling brooks. Hard times and "stringencies" would be as rare as blue rain drops. We would all be busy and happy. There would be work for everybody. The wheels of industry and the merry-go-rounds of pleasure would turn like mad.

But—suppose somebody on the sly stopped spending and began to hold out on the rest of us! The game would go to the bad and become as heart-breaking as ever.

That's the only drawback to the professor's plan. Spend all you have—but take care every one else is doing the same.—New York Evening World.

CAMPAIGN MENDACITIES.

The mendacities of the last campaign were in some instances of a minor character and some others were simply appalling. Statements made by the candidate of the third term party would not bear examination in so many cases as to leave his reputation sadly sullied.

Among the minor mendacities was that of Governor Wilson in protesting over and over again that the Democratic party never was for Free-Trade and never would be. He knew perfectly well that Free-Trade was the conventional term otherwise called Tariff for revenue only, and that it is called Free-Trade when a customs Tariff is built on the principle of no Protection to anybody and is worked out solely on the basis of revenue. It is precisely such a Tariff that the Democratic party pledges itself to give the country, particularly when the first plank of the Baltimore platform declares that all Protection is unconstitutional. Governor Wilson was not honest enough to meet that question squarely and deal with it as ordinary men do and admit that his Tariff is known as a Free-Trade one.

Another of the mendacities of the campaign that was of the shocking kind was that one sent over to London to find out market prices of meats compared with prices in New York. But a few days afterward a woman, who is head of the National Economic League, returned from Europe from half a year's stay, studying the same question and reporting that living was higher in Europe than in America. Then came this emissary back to New York to report that roast beef, for example, was twenty-four cents a pound in New York and only thirteen cents in London, although the beef was brought from America to London to be sold at half the price charged in New York.

Thousands of people believed that falsehood. All along the line the people were fed with statements alleged to be true, which they who made them knew could not be true and which were not true. Such falsehoods were repeated by the Democratic press without limit.—Buffalo News.

IT COULD NOT HAPPEN, BUT IT DID.

"It could not happen," blandly assures Editor Bailey in reply to an inquiry as to whether it is true that Free-Trade would result in a great influx of foreign-made goods and consequent idle factories on this side of the water. Remembering 1893 to 1896, folks are likely to recall the story of the man who wrote to a lawyer for advice, without telling just where he was. "They can't put you in jail for that," replied the lawyer with great confidence. "Maybe not, but they have," wrote back the man.—Johnstown (Pa.) Leader.

ONE-TERM PRESIDENTS.

The Democratic national platform indorses the idea of only one term for a president. There is a growing necessity for this amendment to the constitution. Political reform demands it. The eligibility of a president to a second term is full of menace to the public welfare. It makes the spoils of office a consideration for public duty. It is corruption of one kind or another from start to finish. A one-term president is an independent, self-reliant president.

Of course, this change can be made only by constitutional amendment but in practice the rule may prevail. The one-term limit may be declared in the platforms and that would establish the practice. The Baltimore platform favors the one term only. That in effect would make Governor Wilson a four-year president, for he wouldn't go back on his platform. Of course the exigencies of the situation did not permit the Chicago convention to adopt a one-term plank, but hereafter Republican conventions will probably see that ineligibility to a second term will become the expressed sentiment of the party.—Ohio State Journal.

REJOICING IN GERMANY.

German newspapers are rejoicing over the election of Governor Wilson to the Presidency of the United States.

They hail his election with satisfaction, believing that it will result in closer and better trade relations between Germany and the United States.

The Tageblatt says: "Germany greets with pleasure the return to a liberal trade policy and a reduced tariff. This will open an agreeable prospect for permanent and just trade relations, an agreement for which Germany has long been sighing."

The Taegliche Rundschau says: "Germany has every reason to be satisfied with the result of the election in the United States." It expresses the belief that Governor Wilson will alter what it describes as the inconsiderate American foreign policy.

We recall that the German newspapers talked along these lines when Cleveland was elected in 1892, and we know what happened to the pottery industries in this country, and especially in this city, after that event. And we know how the pottery manufacturers of Germany profited by the changes made in the Tariff schedules in 1893-4.

We sincerely hope that the mistake made during the Cleveland administration will not be made during the Wilson administration.

Governor Wilson says honest business men need have no fear. That assurance is a pleasing one.—Trenton Gazette.

THE DOCTOR QUIT TALKING.

Houston Post.
A doctor who had a custom of cultivating the lawn and walk in front of his home every spring, engaged O'Brien to do the job. He went away for three days and when he returned found O'Brien waiting for his money. The doctor was not satisfied with his work and said: "O'Brien, the walk is covered with gravel and dirt and in my estimation it's a bad job."
O'Brien looked at him in surprise for a moment and replied: "Sure, doc, there's many a bad job of yours covered with gravel and dirt."

HOW MIDWAY CAME TO LIFE

A $20,000 Investment on Its Boys and Girls.

IN MODERN SCHOOLHOUSE.

The Town Began Three Years Ago to Realize the Importance of Conserving Its Future Citizens' Health and Mentalty—Plenty of Room to Play.

Many rural communities feel that any building and any grounds will do for school purposes. These communities have never thought definitely how far they have progressed in so many other lines. The average man will say when you press him for a reason for the poor school equipment in his neighborhood, "Well, that school was good enough for me, an' I reckon it's good enough for my children." His own home, his farming implements, his barms and all else in his life have changed from a "tallow candle and homemade flail" age to an "electric light and a steam thrasher" age.

Three years ago Midway and the surrounding country began to think it was time to have a twentieth century school plant. They began to feel that it would be well to have a building as good as any of their churches. At first the general public shook its head and mumbled under its breath, but gradually it began to see the wisdom of the movement and at last voted the funds necessary.

While the trustees planned a school that should be a credit architecturally, they did not forget to buy enough ground to give the energetic youngsters that were to be trained ample elbow room. The beautiful building stands well back from the turnpike on five acres of fine blue grass land. Behind and to one side of the school building is a comfortable stable stalled to hold twenty-four horses.

As is usual in school affairs all over the country, the trustees built this school with an idea of its taking care of all the pupils in the district for the next fifty years. Now, after only two and a half years, they are beginning to see the natural result of a fine growing school spirit among both children and parents. Today five grade and two high school teachers manage to teach the 250 boys and girls that are enrolled. This number is just fifty more than were enrolled last year. It is now plain that the school will have to add a new teacher each year to take care of the steady increase, and in five more years an addition will have to be built to take care of the children. Besides this yearly increase, the trustees claim that very few of those enrolled even try to play truant. Ample playgrounds, clean, warm schoolrooms, comfortable single desks, light and pleasant surroundings make school going less irksome, and the incentive for "playing out" has been removed.

Several schools rolled into one make many things possible. It allows the school fund to pay for a reliable janitor, who can heat, clean and care for the property as it should be cared for.

MIDWAY'S SUCCESS.

It provides teachers for the different grades and makes efficient and strong work. By bringing many children together it gives a chance for the child to develop his social nature in a group of his own age. That the school at Midway is a success is to put the matter lightly. A school that has enrolled fifty new pupils this year, that has added fifty children to the school population of Midway, that makes the renting of any kind of house in the town an impossibility, that in two and a half years does not show a scratched wall or desk, is a huge success.

Every Indication Points to Studied Aim to Reject Commoner's Leadership in Tariff Fight

He and Clark Not on Speaking Terms

WASHINGTON, November 18th.—William J. Bryan left Sunday evening for his winter home at Miami, Florida, where he expects to hibernate until along about the time for the special session of Congress without taking with him the slightest assurance that he will be able to have his way as to the extent and character of the tariff revision which is to go out to the country with the Democratic stamp. He spent a week in Washington surveying the field where the tariff fray is to occur and consulting with various persons. He learned nothing to encourage or console him but on the contrary there is every indication of a studied purpose to reject his leadership of the party.

Simultaneously with his departure it was learned that Senator Simmons of North Carolina, who wants the chairmanship of the Senate Finance Committee, and who is called the Aldrich of Democracy, Representative Oscar Underwood, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and Democratic leaders of the House, and President-elect Woodrow Wilson already have had a consultation on the tariff question and are agreed as to the general course that shall be followed.

This news is very important, showing that the schedules are to be handled conservatively and that the radical sort of tariff revision downward for which Bryan stands is to be taboed.

Bryan is a strong advocate of free raw materials, while Underwood and Simmons are as vigorously opposed to free raw materials. Presumably Wilson is going to take sides with Underwood and Simmons as to the kind of revision that shall be given the country. Bryan stands for free wool, free iron, free sugar, free lumber and a long free list. Apparently he is not to have his way as to these items.

Every sign now indicates that Bryan is going up against the stiffest kind of combination in his own party—a combination that is strong at both ends of the Capital, and that he cannot hope to overthrow. Speaker Clark is not on speaking terms with Bryan. While Bryan has been here, they have not met. The friends of Mr. Clark do not believe it would be safe for him and Bryan to meet.

Bryan and Underwood are at swords points. Underwood openly denounced him on the floor of the House at the last session and their relations have not improved any since then. So it is difficult to see how Bryan can make any headway in the house.

The Judge Was Asked Pertinent Question By Portsmouth Damsel

Portsmouth Times.

Much merriment was created by Miss Dolly Cooper, a young North End girl, during the trial of the divorce suit of Mrs. Anna Wesson Saturday. The girl told of some alleged indiscretions on the part of the plaintiff.

"What did you see?" asked Judge Blair.

"Why, I saw 'em loving each other," calmly replied the witness.

"Well, what were they doing?" again asked the Judge and the jurors leaned forward eager to catch every word.

"Why, haven't you ever loved anybody?" asked the girl of the Judge, and a roar went up in the Court Room, Judge Blair joining in the general laughter that followed. He did not press the girl further for details.

HUNDRED YEAR CLUBS

Believe Life May Be Prolonged

Men who are devoting their lives to the study of longevity believe that in days to come a man of ninety will be in his prime, and old age will begin long past a hundred years.

Scientists have proved that the simple life, temperate habits, exercise, and an active mind are essential to a long and happy life.

When the blood gets thin and sluggish and creeps lazily through the veins, and the arteries begin to harden, there is nothing that will enrich the blood, improve the circulation and restore strength to every backsliding organ in the body so quickly as our delicious cod liver and iron tonic Vinol. Here is proof.

Mrs. Michael Bloom of Lewiston, Pa., at 83 years of age was so weak she had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair—she writes that after taking a few bottles of Vinol she could take long walks and do her housework. That shows how Vinol strengthens old people.

Try Vinol on our guarantee that it will do you good or cost you nothing. John C. Pecor, Druggist, Maysville, Ky.

BUY THE BRAINS BEHIND THE CORN

It Cost One Farmer $500, but He Won Out.

THEY DETERMINE THE VALUES

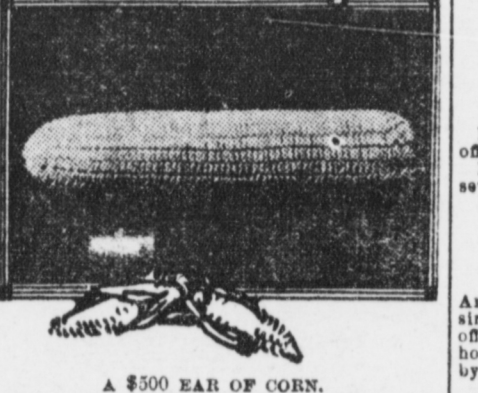

Raw Material Is Cheap, but the Amount of Brains Mixed With It in Manufacture Means Profit or Loss. Learn How.

Some years ago a Hoosier farmer began to breed fine seed corn. At one of the great national corn shows, held at Chicago, he took the first prize for a single ear of corn. The rule governing this prize was that the ear taking first prize became the property of the corn show. The farmer was in despair until he learned that this "best ear in the world" would be sold at public auction to the highest bidder. He determined he must keep this ear of corn for seed on his own farm at any cost. HE BOUGHT THE EAR FOR $500.

Every one said he was crazy to pay such a price for a single ear of corn. Of course any other ear of the same weight and costing about 1 1/2 cents would have fed as much stock or made as many cornmeal batter cakes for breakfast. Why was he willing to pay such a huge price for the corn? He was not buying corn at all. HE WAS BUYING THE BRAINS BEHIND ITS PRODUCTION.

Raw material is cheap; the amount of brains mixed with it in its manufacture fixes its market value. A piece of window glass is cheap; a watch crystal is more expensive; a lens for a fine camera is quite expensive; the objective for a great telescope may cost a small fortune. What is true of corn or any raw material is true of men. A fine, strong, vigorous man can be bought for $2 as a laborer. Mix brains enough for him to handle a section gang, and he will bring $3 per day.

Mix brains enough to fit him for a conductor, and he will bring $4 to $5 per day on the market.

Enough brains to handle a great railroad system, and he brings $100 per day on the open market.

All values in the market of the world are educated brain values. The cheapest education is the best, for the efficient, well educated man is the high priced commodity.

Painting and Grapefruit.

"You say that teacher wants you to get some paint an' a paint brush, Bobby?" exclaimed a farmer.

"Yes, sir, to paint pictures with," answered his eight-year-old hopeful.

"Do you know when I went to school I had lots of old blue back spellers an' hickory lie an' no frills or fur-belows. I reckon I'll have to get 'em for you, but it looks like a plumb waste of time, this paintin' of pictures."

His good wife smiled behind her glasses and kept on sewing. Some time later, when Bobby was fast asleep, she adroitly asked the man enveloped in the blue haze of White Burley, "Rob, what did you get when you were in town this afternoon?"

"Why, I got those repairs for the shredder that had come by express, an' I saw some nice grapefruit an' oranges an' brought a few along. Why?"

"What was the use of bringin' them home? You knew we had plenty of bacon, potatoes, beans an' coffee in the pantry, didn't you?"

Gradually the man struggled out of the smoke long enough to exclaim: "One reason I got 'em was to please you. Great Scott, don't you ever get worked out, tired to death of fat meat an' coffee, woman?"

"Of course I do, an' I like grapefruit an' all kinds of odds an' ends to give me an appetite for the plain, substantial things. But," and a pleasant, mischievous smile spread over her soft, motherly face, "you an' I were raised on fat meat, coffee an' lots of hickory lie, weren't we, Rob?"

For a moment the man's face wore a puzzled look. Suddenly his face cleared, and he laughed heartily and said: "I reckon I was kinder hard on Bobby just now. You are right—things are different now, an' they're a lot better than they used to be. I see what you are drivin' at, mother. Yes, the teacher wants to use the paintin' like a kinder relish or side dish to keep up their appetite for the rest of the everyday school grub."

The natural resources of any country are limited. The only resource that is without a limit is human brains.

Virginia Loose Leaf Market

At Monday on the Danville, Va., loose market, nine million pounds of tobacco had been sold and it is estimated the price so far has averaged better than $5 per hundred over the market last year. This increase should show the same on tobacco grown in Kentucky and in the event the average will be near 15 cents.

TAX SUITS

Against Railroads Up Today In Federal Court at Frankfort

At Frankfort, suits brought by railroads and express companies in the Federal Court to enjoin the collection of franchise taxes under the assessment of 1912 will come up before Judge Cochran this morning.

Arguments will be heard on motion of the companies for an interlocutory injunction restraining the officials from taking any steps toward the collection of taxes until a final decree is entered in the cases.

At this hearing the companies will endeavor to show that they have a cause of action, and that unless the restraining order is granted their rights will be affected materially before the merits of the cases are decided. If they can do this they will get the order, if the court is of the opinion that it has jurisdiction.

It seems to be a close question, whether in suits of this character against State officials is their administrative capacity, involving a duty they owe the state, if the suit is not actually, if not nominally, against the State itself. If Judge Cochran finds the railroads are trying to sue a sovereign State, of course he will not take jurisdiction.

All the railroads, excepting the Illinois Central, paid into the state the amount they admitted they owed, and the suits involve the excess, which is exactly the amount of the raise made by the State Board of Valuation and Assessment this year. This aggregates $361,344.12, which the state claims is due from the roads, as follows:

L. & N. $166,644.37
C. & O. 80,276.40
Q. & C. 35,574.38
I. C. 73,734.88
Adams Express Company 3,726.28
Southern Express 1,388.83

Total $361,344.12
After the hearing of these cases the question of employing extra counsel probably will bob up again. The Governor, of course, can do nothing without the Attorney General first declaring that an emergency exists, requiring additional assistance.

Football is forbidden in the schools of Bayliss by a recent decree.

Mrs. F. S. Andrews of Mansfield, O., guest of Mrs. M. C. Russell, East Third street, who was stricken with muscular rheumatism ten days ago, is much improved.

BIBLE FOR BAPTISTS

New Version, Just Out, Declared Starting in Changes

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The Rev. Philip L. Jones, Editor of the American Baptist Publication Society, whose headquarters are in this city, is said to be the man responsible for a new version of the bible, some of the readings in which are startling in their difference from those of the old versions.

The new version has just been put on sale here and is being looked upon as a Baptist Bible for the Baptists only. The version is the work of Baptist scholars, who have spent thirty years at the labor and who declare the translations are uncompromising, faithful to the original and to the teachings of the church.

One of the striking changes in the text is found in the New Testament, where the conversion of the Savior is described the word "immerse" being used instead of "baptize." All the archaic forms of the King James version and the revised versions are eliminated and hundreds of new words are used, which, it is explained, are the actual translations of the original scripture.

Daylight Window Displays at Night

It is wonderful how beautiful and attractive window displays are under the pure white rays of

ELECTRIC LIGHT!

A well-dressed window properly illuminated is like a beautiful picture. We can make yours attractive.
